

American Manufacturers Closed Up, and American Mechanics Thrown Out of Employment, in South British Workmen.

And the next day it snowed.

Illinois headed the list of surprises.

The whole Republican ticket in Kenton county was defeated.

Ohio seems to have slumped too, and the tall has gone with the tide. It is possible, however, that the "state of Lewis" remains true.

Although the Democratic party gained power this election, yet they haven't full sway of everything. Newport has got all Republican officers, and will more along just the same.

The American people have turned their backs on progress and given their decision to the anti-American ideas so popular across the Atlantic in a manner we thought them incapable of.

Here's hope, and it shows the force of the tariff "percentage" argument. In Covington the prohibition vote increased nearly thirteen hundred per cent.; that is, the time before it was 10, and this time 128.

Judging from the number of colored men and guns seen on our street Tuesday, one would have thought this a community of hunters. The game that was bagged, however, consisted chiefly of the $2 bills furnished by the Democrats.

Theodore Hallam, who occasionally stumbles on the truth, gives this as the Free-trade program:

March 5th.
13 m.—All Tariffs removed.
1 p. m.—Begin printing wild money.
3 p. m.—Revoke all pensions to Union veterans soldiers.
2.30 p. m.—Grant pensions to all Confederate veterans.
8 p. m.—Repeal the fifteenth amendment.
4 p. m.—Give office to every Democrat and every man who promises to become a Democrat.

Among the early fruits of Tuesday's Free-trade victory in the election of Mr. Cleveland come the announcement that the American Tin-plate Factory at Elwood, Ind., has shut down.

This is followed by the statement that the Diamond Plate Glass Factory of the same city will also close operations tomorrow. This will work a great hardship upon the laboring classes, who at the opening of winter will be thrown out of employment, as upwards of one thousand people find employment in the two factories. In addition to this it will strike a blow at the prosperity of Elwood from which it will never fully recover. The outcome of the affair is awaited with much anxiety by the citizens, who fear that the prosperity of Elwood is at an end, and the unexampled progress of the last few years will but add to the disappointments that will follow such a result.

But let the good Free-trade work go on!

As the Republicans expected and predicted, our British friends are pleased immensely.

The Fall Gazette says that "both the merchants and the unemployed workmen of England have reason to rejoice at the Democratic victory, as, with the possibility of the reopening of the American markets to the goods of Birmingham, Bradford and Manchester, capitalists will get a chance to procure some return on their money invested, and the workmen will have an opportunity to get a decent price for their labor without the necessity of striking."

And this simply means that for every British workman who is employed under the new order of things, an American workman will be thrown out of employment.

As the workmen themselves find a good deal of the voting that brought about this condition of things, it is hoped that they will be satisfied with its results.

PUBLIC LEADER

FIRST YEAR.

MAYSVILLE, KY., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1892.

ONE CENT.

AN EX-FLORISSANT COUNTYMAN.

Captain and Ex-Mayor Luther F. Warder in Trouble Out in Indiana.

Many readers of THE LEADER will remember Captain Luther F. Warder, who kept hotel in Flemingsburg along in the latter part of the '70's.

He was a rampant Republican; but he moved to Jeffersonville, Ind., and became a diabolical Democrat.

So strong was his love for Democracy and office that he was elected Mayor and re-elected several successive terms. And thus he grew to be a prominent figure.

Now he has been made the clerk in a rather sensational case in the Clark County Circuit Court. The suit is brought in the name of the State of Indiana in the case of S. S. Johnson, guardian of Mary Bonner, the facts being about as follows:

A few years ago Mr. Warder was appointed guardian of Miss Bonner, who is the granddaughter of the late Dr. McBride, who now resides with her grandmother, Mrs. Maria McBride, in Jeffersonville. At the time of receiving his appointment Mr. Warder gave bond, with Jacob S. Fry and Sam Goldbach as sureties.

Afterward he sold certain of the real estate of his ward to the Ohio Falls Car Company, and at the time of making this sale was required by the court to give additional bond. At the last term of the court Mr. Warder resigned the trust and Mr. Johnson was appointed his successor.

Although Mr. Warder resigned his trust, it is alleged that he failed to account for the funds that came into his hands both from the personal estate and the sale of real estate. It is said the alleged shortage reaches $600.

FORMER RATES OF POSTAGE.

What It Cost, "In the Good Old Times," to Write to Your Friends.

At the request of a friend and subscriber, and to settle a controversy, we give below some information that may be new to the young readers of THE LEADER.

The Postoffice Department of the United States was organized under act of Congress in 1793.

The rates of postage, from that time up to 1816, were based upon the number of miles traveled, and for letters composed of a single piece of paper were as follows:

Under 40 miles.....	5 cents
40 " " " " " " " "	10 "
100 " " " " " " " "	15 "
150 " " " " " " " "	20 "
200 " " " " " " " "	25 "
Over 200 " " " " " " " "	30 "

In 1816 these rates for letters composed of a single piece of paper were modified as follows:

Not over 30 miles.....	5 cents
Over 30 and under 50 miles.....	10 "
50 " " " " " " " "	15 "
100 " " " " " " " "	20 "
200 " " " " " " " "	25 "
Over 200 " " " " " " " "	30 "

There was an additional rate for every additional piece of paper, and for the letter weighed an ounce, four times these rates.

The above rates were in force until 1845, when, for letters not exceeding 1 ounce in weight, the rate was made 3 cents for a distance of less than 300 miles, and 10 cents for over 300 miles, with additional postage for additional weight.

FORMERLY OF MATSVILLE.

Lieutenant-Colonel J. Perry Pyffe and His Domestic Trouble in Tennessee.

A special from Camp Anderson, Tenn., where the state militia is stationed to preserve order among the coal miners, gives news of a social sensation, in which former Mayville parties are prominent figures.

When the call was made for a garrison Lieutenants Colonel J. Perry Pyffe of Shelbyville went to the front.

He was assigned to regular duty, and it was not long before the shoulder-strapped young man brought his wife to stay with him at the post. Mrs. Pyffe was young and handsome. Her face and figure attracted attention at every gathering.

She is the daughter of a wealthy Shelbyville gentleman, William Bryant.

The young wife allowed other men than her husband to attract attention among them Captain Keller Anderson, commanding the post.

The discovery of the breach of faith caused a big row in camp.

Pyffe's mother came and took his little baby to her Kentucky home.

The young officer went to Jefferson Barracks where he fitted into the Regular Army, and the wife was taken home to her papa. A divorce suit is soon to follow.

All of the parties are members of the upper ten of the volunteers of the state.

JAMES LANGSTON and Patrick Murphy engaged in a political discussion at Mt. Zion, and Murphy, for want of better argument, punctuated his remarks with personal abuse and a murderous knife. It is thought that Langston, who is a Republican, will die. At last accounts Murphy was enjoying his freedom.

Mrs. R. C. Miles.

Of Milford, Neb., she suffered greatly from a complication of diseases of female weakness and liver and kidney troubles. Her health was fully restored by using Dr. Hale's Household Tonic. The most pleasant and most effective medicine known. 35 and 50 cent packages at Power & Reynolds's Drugstore.

COLONEL LARAT T. MOORE.

His Death—Yesterday Morning at Columbus, Tenn.—Buried Saturday Morning.

THE LEADER several days ago announced the serious illness of Colonel Laban T. Moore at his home in Cincinnati.

It is now our painful duty to report his death, which occurred yesterday morning. Mr. Moore was widely known and universally respected.

He represented his District in Congress before the war, and has since held several important and responsible positions, always serving with credit.

His illness was the outcome of a severe cold, contracted during the exercises attendant on the dedication of the World's Fair Buildings at Chicago.

The funeral will take place Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

THE STATE.

A Large Increase in the Democratic Majority Over 1888.

The most detailed returns obtainable show that the Cleveland electors have carried Kentucky by a plurality which may exceed 85,000 or about 7,000 in excess of the plurality of 1888. A heavy vote was polled in most all precincts.

The return from the Congressional Districts show that but one Republican Congressman has been elected in the state. This one curiosity is Hon. Silas Adams of the Eleventh District.

The new ballot system of voting seems to have given the Republicans a slight edge, though the Republicans did not profit by it as was hoped.

THE burned hotel at Winchester is to be rebuilt at a cost of $30,000.

THE PRESIDENT'S COACHMAN.

Reminiscences of Albert Hawkins, Who Served Through Many Administrations.

Lexington Leader.—Albert Hawkins, the colored man who, since General Grant's first term, has been the coachman at the White House, and in consequence an autocrat among the lesser lights of the stable, retired about a year ago on account of age.

Change of position, applied made no difference in Albert's place, as there appeared to have been a tradition handed down to each incoming administration that whoever else went the coachman was to remain. Whether or not he was credited with any peculiar qualities as a mascot does not appear, but one thing was assured and that was the very great veneration in which Albert held the office of Chief Magistrate.

In his eyes the President of the United States first and last to the individual—was the greatest potentate on earth, and as such entitled upon all occasions to right of way when driving. This idea led to some hairbreadth escapes, as a Street Carriage for repairs presented no obstacles to progress in Albert's eyes.

He would go crashing through the barriers and when expostulated with by the family, stoutly maintained that the President's carriage had a right to go any where, and was well to leave the right of way to anyone. Though Albert would by no means acknowledge it, his eyesight, especially at night, has been poor for several years past, when he would lose himself in the most unaccountable manner in the most crowded localities.

One night just before his successor was appointed Mrs. Harrison and Mrs. McKee attended an evening reception, and of course rode home in the President's carriage. Suddenly it struck the ladies that they were a most unaccountable long time in reaching the White House, and Mrs. McKee, looking out of the windows in the darkness, discovered to her astonishment that they were at the White House. While she watched Albert made the circuit twice. She called to the driver, asking his reason for such a strange proceeding.

He was unwillingly obliged to admit that he had lost his way, but concluded to drive on, and was taken into the street when he came across a familiar looking street when he would immediately turn down.

HARVEY GOLDMAN, while riding along a street in Cincinnati, saw the president's young girl. It is not stated what brand of whisky Goldman had been drinking.

American Cholera.

From THE Daily Beeville, Watson, W. Va., Oct. 28, 1892. I am a Democrat candidate for Sheriff and was taken violently ill at Clearbrook. He had all the symptoms of Asiatic cholera, and for an hour or two it was feared he would die. They finally gave him a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which revived him until a physician arrived. That is precisely what the manufacturers of that medicine recommended for cholera. Send for a physician but give your medicine until the physician arrives. I am now feeling better. I am in this country next summer, this preparation will be in great demand because it can always be depended upon. For sale by Power & Reynolds, Drugstore.

NEXT CONGRESS.

Democratic Majority in the House Placed at 100.

The Silver States Split Even on Republicans and Fusionists.

Fusionists Partially in Accord With Democrats—Takes Showing the Number of Congressmen from Each State and the Party They Represent.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—An analysis of the congressional election returns show that with returns missing from twenty districts in which the result is either entirely unknown or is very close, the democrats have elected to seats in the house of representatives for the fifty-third congress, eighty-eight more representatives than the republicans. This majority does not include all members-elect who are classified as either fusionists or third party men, nearly every one of whom will not act with the democrats in any proposed reduction of tariff rates. Their action, with the additional strength the democrats are certain to derive from securing some of the twenty districts put in the unknown column, makes it almost imperative to estimate that the democrats will have a majority of one hundred members or more on the most important question likely to come before the next house of representatives, viz., a revision of the McKinley tariff law. A number of the fusionists are also thoroughly in accord with the democratic party, as far as it goes, on all other questions.

An analysis by section of the vote Tuesday for congress shows that in the southern states, Maryland, Missouri and Kentucky, being included in the category, will send 117 democrats, only fifty-four republicans and one Alliance democrat. McLean, of South Carolina, to the next house, with four districts, two in West Virginia and one each in Kentucky and Missouri. The only apparent result of the fight made against the democrats in the south was to strengthen the hold on public affairs in North Carolina, Chesapeake, the colored republican, is defeated, after surviving the landslide of two years ago, and in Alabama a solid democratic delegation returned, notwithstanding the efforts of Mr. Magee and others to split it.

Of New England twenty-seven votes in the next house the republicans get eighteen and the democrats six. The states of the northwest and agricultural west, beyond the Mississippi river, will send 36 republicans, 14 democrats and 5 fusionists to represent them in the next house, two from Nebraska in doubt, and the entire area from Minnesota placed in the same column, for lack of information as to the successful candidates.

The Pacific coast is entitled to eleven congressmen. Washington and Oregon each will send two republicans, and California will send four democrats, and perhaps more, three districts being close between the two old parties.

The following is a table by states:
